Joyce Frances

On the small coastal town of Block Island Julie Stanford is currently on tour promoting her latest best-selling novel, "Five Hundred Times", symbolic of Harry Wordsworth, a former flame who broke her heart over 20 years earlier.

Harry and Julie had a very strong love connection, a torrid love affair, which ended up destroying lives and ending when Harry, guilt-stricken, returned to his alcoholic wife and childhood sweetheart.

Life is very different for Julie, who has a very successful writing career and lives on her own. For Harry, life and time have not changed. It's as if time stood still for him.

While there, not only does Julie have self discovery, but she learns of lives engaged in witchcraft, trysts and even possibly murder.

Joyce Frances, grew up the youngest in a family of six in Delaware, went to college in Connecticut, where she earned a B.A in English Literature. She loves writing, friends, and travel. She resides on a small coastal town in Connecticut.
